CREATIVE WORKSHOPS: Embrace

Lou Fellingham

Lara Martin

Steve Thompson

NEW for Season 3 – Creative Workshops

Taking place on Saturday afternoons the addition of these workshops is to equip and inspire musicians, singers, songwriters and anyone involved in praise and worship ministry. Hear from individuals from the Embrace team who not only contribute to worship worldwide but who are committed to raising up passionate worshippers in the local church. Workshops will primarily explore musicianship, worship leading, vocals, team dynamics and more.

The afternoon will start with a short time of acoustic worship led by Lou Fellingham and Steve Thompson followed by a keynote session with Lara Martin entitled 'Embrace the Call' (see description). The rest of the afternoon will be given over to a choice of two workshops running simultaneously.

- The Musician
- The Vocalist

Both workshops will include a short time of Q&A

The Musician

Here are just a few things that may be covered in this workshop

- Lifestyle of a musician
- Ministry versus performance
- Creating one sound
- Team dynamics both musical and relational
- Leading worship with an instrument
- The prophetic and flow
- Productive team rehearsals

Followed by a short time of Q&A

The Vocalist

Here are just a few things that may be covered in this workshop

- Using your voice as an instrument
- Leading worship without an instrument
- Team dynamics both musical and relational
- Singing a New Song
- The prophetic and flow
- Harmony and blend

Followed by a short time of Q&A

This is a practical workshop and will involve group singing

Keynote Session with Lara Martin: 'Embrace the Call'

Every thriving worship team has a strong team dynamic with each person playing their part to the full. How do we know what our unique part is and how do we express this individually and collectively? Hear from Lara as she shares Biblical truths and practical keys from her 20+ years experience that will help develop a united, committed and effective worship team whatever the size.

Keynote Speaker and Event Host

Lara Martin

As co founder and host of Embrace, Lara Martin has a passion to see the unique combination of worship, Gods word, prayer and mission embraced and creatively expressed throughout the church world-wide. She communicates this speaking regularly at conferences, events and churches. As a singer/songwriter and worship leader she has written and recorded songs which are sang in congregations across the world and is known best for her songs 'The Voice of Hope', 'God is Here' and 'Divine Exchange'. Lara also serves on the leadership team for 'The Kingdom Worship Movement', a non-denominational and multicultural organisation whose aim is to equip the local church through teaching and training.

Workshop Teachers:

The Musician

Steve Thompson

Steve Thompson has served in the music ministry along with his wife Velveta for over 30 years. They are the founders of Beracah Music International and have travelled to over 100 countries worldwide. After studying at Bible College in Germany, Steve went on to work extensively with Graham Kendrick as his Musical Director. Steve is also known for his worship leading, seminar teaching, song writing, music directing and accompanying various International worship leaders and secular artists. Steve also serves as a part-time lecturer at London School of Theology.

The Vocalist

Lou Fellingham

Lou's distinctive voice and heart for people have distinguished her as a much loved singer, worship leader and recording artist. If you listen to contemporary Christian music, chances are that you have already heard Lou's beautiful voice. Lou has just released her 4th solo album "Fascinate" with Integrity Music and she features on countless compilation albums with artists such as Stuart Townend - notably singing a version of his famous song 'In Christ Alone'. Lou has a desire for people to be strengthened and encouraged through music and song.
